

Thursday, 18 February 2016

Health Protection

October 2015 - December 2015

Key points

- Overall S. aureus (SA) rates for Northern Ireland (NI) and NIH (Northern Ireland) decreased by approximately 25% during October-December 2015 compared to July-September 2015.
- NIH SA rates decreased by approximately 51%, during October-December 2015 compared to July-September 2015.
- NIH SA rates during 2014-15 rose by 6% compared to 2013-14.
- NIH SA rates decreased by approximately 19% compared to July-September 2015.
- NIH SA rates during 2014-15 decreased by 17% compared to 2013-14.
- NIH SA rates remain within expected parameters on the SPI-2 chart for Northern Ireland.

For further information on publications in eCRU, including please refer to previous reports on Northern Ireland@NIH

Details

Format

A4, 13 pages

Target group

Healthcare professionals

Downloads

Attachment

Size

S.aureus bacteraemia surveillance quart October-December 2015_0.pdf 939.34 KB

Tags

- Professionals

Print