

Wednesday, 05 February 2020

Health and Social Wellbeing Improvement

This leaflet outlines how Naloxone can be used in the event of an overdose to temporarily reverse the effects of opiate-type drugs like heroin, keeping the person alive until the ambulance service can reach them. It explains how to get a free Naloxone pack and instructions on how to use it, and includes contact details for the outreach services that can provide it.

Details

Format

6 pages, A6 leaflet

Target group

Opiate drug users, their friends or family, and health and social care professionals

Downloads

Attachment

Size

Tags

- drugs
- overdose
- harm reduction
- Take Home Naloxone
- Naloxone

Print