The Early Intervention Support Service

for families with children 0-18 years

What is the Early Intervention Support Service?

The Early Intervention Support Service (EISS) is a service that offers short term support to families with children 0-18 years who have additional needs or are facing challenges that are difficult to overcome, such as:

- difficulties with developmental or health related issues;
- issues at school;
- behavioural difficulties;
- emotional wellbeing;
- coping with illness or bereavement;
- family difficulties.

What does the EISS offer?

- A range of supports tailored to meet the needs of individual families. EISS works with families for a time limited period of up to around 12 weeks.
- A project worker from EISS will meet with you and your child/children to help identify both your needs and strengths.
- EISS works with parents and children to develop a plan which is individually tailored to meet the identified needs.
- You and your child/children participate in putting the plan in place, reviewing the plan and deciding when needs have been met.
- EISS can provide information, signpost and help you to access other services in your area.
